Redaction Refresh Series

Presented to you by Best Best & Krieger's (BBK) Advanced Records Center

Redaction Refresh is a webinar series designed to assist public agencies in understanding the proper use of exemptions written into the Public Records Act ("PRA"). Since the inception of the PRA, the Legislature recognized that public right of access must sometimes yield to necessary privacy interests. In those instances, public agencies must narrowly apply exemptions, either to entire documents or with careful precision to specific information within a document. The Redaction Refresh webinar series focuses on best practices that can help agencies properly assess when an exemption may apply and, if appropriate, how to apply the exemption to avoid infringing on the public's right of access.

Register your agency for the series and gain access to the live sessions, as well as the on-demand recordings. Once registered a discount code will be provided, via a confirmation email, which can be shared within your agency.
